CONTRIBUTORS

The long history and success of the Festival are rooted in visionary leadership, a multifaceted company and thousands of people who believe our work is worthy of their support. We don’t have subscribers at OSF; we have members—17,000 households from around the world—who support the ongoing work of the Festival through their annual gifts. More than half have been members for 20 years or more, and many have been part of the Festival’s family for half a century.

Ticket sales represent about 62 percent of our $34 million budget. The gap is filled by the generous support of individuals, corporations, businesses, foundations, government agencies, volunteer organizations and our endowment fund.

In the pages that follow, we recognize many gifts, including membership gifts of $1,250 or more for the 2016 season. Each and every gift is important to us, and we thank all those who are listed here as well as the thousands of others who give us the encouragement to mount each new season.

NAMED FUNDS
We salute all those who have created Special Funds, Permanently Named Family Funds and Designated Funds. As part of the Endowment, they support the annual operations of a variety of programs, such as education. They bear the names of individuals and families who blend stewardship with a vision of the future and use philanthropy as their means for making good things happen.
Their funds will support the Festival and its endeavors long into the future.
